Dear Valued Supplier,

We are proud to announce that within a few weeks, we will officially become Teijin Automotive Technologies (teijinautomotive.com). Five strong organizations – Continental Structural Plastics, Inapal, Benet, CSP Victall and TACE – will come together to form Teijin Automotive Technologies, a global leader in materials and solutions for the worldwide mobility market.

Our rebranding will be announced publicly later this month at important events in North America and Europe, as well as through internal events, and marketing activities centered around the theme “Together, we have chemistry.” As Teijin Automotive Technologies, we are a proven manufacturer of highly-engineered products for dynamic market divisions with the ability to supply consistent materials and components to customers across North America, Europe and Asia – a capability no other supplier can provide.

As part of this rebranding, our legal entity name will also be changing. While this does not impact any existing contracts or agreements we currently have in place with you, you will notice this new brand and/or legal name on future contracts and agreements, purchase orders, checks and other documents. To determine which new legal entity name is applicable to your business relationship with CSP, please refer to the chart below:

Along with the name changes, a new ERP system is currently being implemented which requires the generation of new Purchase Order numbers. The implementation of the new ERP system will be staggered over several months. When providing packing slips and invoices, please be sure to reference the new PO numbers.

In addition, please note that the new email for submitting invoices is: CorpAP@teijinautomotive.com.

This is an exciting time for our entire organization. This move creates a singular organization with a global footprint capable of combining world-class materials expertise with cutting-edge design to create solutions that make vehicles safer and eco-friendly. As one unified company, we become an even stronger vertically integrated, full-service supplier that develops materials to meet our customers' needs today, while anticipating the needs of tomorrow.
